FEDERAL COURT—KU KLUX TRIALS.
From the Era.
NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, Sept 22, 1871.
Court met at the usual hour.
At least five hundred spectators were present, and the Senate Chamber, being small, was crowded to its utmost capacity.
At half past ten o'clock Assistant District Attorney Phillips
PRAYED JUDGMENT,
according to notice, on the prisoners at the bar.
The Court instructed the Marshal to remove the prisoners to an adjoining room and bring them in singly, as called for.

The first prisoner called was Randolph Shotwell. He entered and advanced firmly, betraying little or no emotion, and, dropping his hat on the floor, sat down in a chair which had been placed near the center of the room. His face, however, was very pale, and his eyes became restless. A deep silence pervaded the Chamber, and all eyes were intensely directed towards Shotwell.

Mr. Fuller, as counsel for the defendant, arose and addressed the Court in behalf of the prisoner, in very affecting terms, praying for him as light a punishment as the mercy of the Court could extend.

Judge Brooks then occupied nearly an hour in remarks, which we have not time or space for in this issue of our paper, but will publish fully in our next.

Judge Bond proceeded to pass THE SENTENCE OF THE COURT on the convicts. Requesting Shotwell to stand up. His Honor asked him if he had anything to say why the Court should not proceed to pass judgment on him according to law. He answered, "I have not, only that a great deal of the evidence against me is false—some of it ridiculously false." His Honor said, "You, according to the evidence before the Court, are the most guilty man of all this party. You pointed out to these ruffians, in the dead hour of the night, the way to Justice's house, whence he was dragged from the side of his innocent wife, and so brutally treated. The mercy asked for you we feel for your aged parent. The judgment of the Court is that you be imprisoned at hard labor for six years, and that you be fined five thousand dollars. Mr. Marshall, take the prisoner into custody."

Marshal Carrow then took the prisoner by the arm and led him to an adjoining room. The countenance of Shotwell remained unchanged, only that his eyes were downcast.
The remainder of the prisoners were sentenced as follows, viz: Amos Owens, imprisonment at hard labor for six years, and fine of five thousand dollars; Adolphus Depriest, imprisonment at hard labor for two years and fine of five hundred dollars; George Holland imprisonment for two years at hard labor and fine of five hundred dollars; Wm. McIntyre, imprisonment for two years at hard labor and fine of five hundred dollars; David Collins, imprisonment for four years and fine of five hundred dollars; Wm. Scruggs, imprisonment for three years at hard labor and fine of five hundred dollars; Spencer K. Moore, imprisonment for six months; D. B. Fortune imprisonment for six months.

The convicts are principally very poor farmers, such as inhabit the mountain coverts in the western part of the State.
Amos Owen is about fifty years of age, and has a wife and eight children. He is known, in the words of one of the witnesses, as "a wild, rattling sort of a man." When asked by the Court if he had anything to say in his own behalf he replied, "Well, I don't think that I ought to be punished. If justice had been done me here I wouldn't be punished."
Adolphus Depriest and George Holland are young men, about twenty three years of age respectively. Holland has a wife. Wm. McIntyre is about twenty-two years of age. When asked what he had to say, &c., he answered, "Well, I don't think you ought to put me too hard."
William Teal is a tall, wiry looking individual, aged about twenty-five. He has a wife and two children—was very shabbily dressed.
David Collins is the most "substantial" looking man of the party—is aged sixty-four. He steadfastly gazed alternately at the Judges and at the floor. He is heavily built, and has a bulky face, with a very narrow, low and compressed forehead.
William Scruggs is small and rather hard-featured—about forty-seven years of age.
Spencer K. Moore and D. B. Fortune are intelligent looking young men. They plead guilty when first arraigned.

The prisoners received their sentences with a great deal of composure, in some cases amounting almost to nonchalance. They will be sent to the State's prison of New York, situated at Albany. Moore and Fortune will be confined in common jail.

The man, says the Danville Times, who ran off with another man's wife who "kole the balance," has been arrested, and is in Rockingham jail. Our readers will recollect the amusing letter, which appeared in our last about it. The woman is also in jail.

To Every Soldier Who Worthily Wore the Gray.
The first Confederate soldier killed in the war between the States was Henry Wyatt, of North Carolina, who fell at Bethel, and is buried in Hollywood cemetery, at Richmond, Virginia. A brief inscription on his tombstone, telling the eventful history attracts the attention of every visitor to the cemetery; and on Memorial Day no Confederate grave is more lavishly decorated than that of young Wyatt. The dead son is remembered and honored, while the living father is neglected and forgotten.

John Wyatt, the father of Henry Wyatt is now in the Poorhouse in Pitt county, North Carolina. The boy, who would have been the prop of his old age shed his blood for us in the first battle of the war, and it rests with his surviving comrades to save the patriot from further humiliation. A trifling contribution from the Confederate soldiers will make the venerable old man comfortable for the rest of his days, and we sincerely hope that every Southerner, who wore the gray with honor, will send a few pence, for the father of Henry Wyatt, to Captain W. J. McKerrall of Marion, South Carolina, who has kindly volunteered to forward all these donations to their destination. Those who prefer so doing may send their donations to the editor of the News, who will cheerfully take them in charge and hand them to Captain McKerrall.—Charleston (S. C.) News.

APPALLING CALAMITY.
Sinking of the Orange County of Florida.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18, 1871.
Information has been received here from Palatka, Fla., to the effect that a large portion of the orange country has been changed into a lake, and that
HOUSES AND PEOPLE HAVE BEEN ENGULFED.

The gentleman furnishing the information states that while on his way from Orlando to Millerville, on horseback, he noticed that his horse commenced bogging and as he proceeded, from the sounds heard in the rear, he became alarmed. The bogging grew worse as he progressed, until he had to dismount. The sounds in his rear increased more and more, and became more alarming and the route in front more boggy. At last, after great exertions, both he and his horse reached solid ground. Turning to examine into the cause of those fearful sounds in his rear he saw the most
TERRIFIC AND APPALLING SIGHTS.

The first thing that attracted attention was that the trees were moving, first a rotary motion of the top, then some sinking gradually out of sight, the tops revolving more and more rapidly as it sunk and disappeared, others following, and as they fell revolving and describing arcs of a circle against the sky. Then the whole earth, as far as the eye could reach, sinking in its place supplied by rushing, seething, boiling, with the noise of mighty cataracts, casting to the surface the roots, tops of bodies of pines and oak.

It is well known that a large portion of Florida is of comparatively recent formation; that it has for a basis coral and rotten rock; that many of the rivers and lakes have subterranean channels and outlets, and that there are many what are called "lime sinks." The late heavy and long continued rains, by which the earth has been thoroughly saturated and the subterranean channels swollen, are calculated to produce subterranean changes. It is not impossible nor improbable that there is truth in the story.

BIBLE MEASURES.—For the benefit of those who are not very well informed in Biblical affairs, we print the following paragraph in relation to Biblical measurement:
A day's journey is thirty-three and one-fifth miles.
A Sabbath day's journey was about an English mile.
A cubit is twenty-two inches.
Makel's reed was seven feet.
A hand's breadth is equal to three and five-eighths inches.
A chekel of gold was $8.09.
A talent of silver was $138.32.
A talent of gold was $3,800.
A piece of silver or a penny was thirteen cents.
A farthen was three cents.
A garah was a cent.
A mite was a cent.
An epha, or bath, contains seven gallons and five pints.
A bin was one gallon and two pints.
A firkin was seven pints.
An omer was six pints.
A cab was three pints.

DENVER COLORADO, is just now regarded with literature like this:
Murderers! Thieves!
[Five coffins.]
And robbers!
Beware!
The first man that commits murder, robbery, or larceny to the amount of $20 is our meat. A word to the wise is sufficient. This is the first and last warning. Thieves notified to leave this place will do so at once, or stay at their peril.
The M. and R. H.'s will meet at 8 o'clock p. m., August 26, 1871, at the rear room of M. and R. H. By order of
THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

PEARLS.
Teach self denial, and make its practice pleasurable, and you create for the world a destiny more sublime than ever issued from the brain of the wildest dreamer.
It is easy to exclude the noontide light by closing the eyes; and it is easy to resist the clearest truth by hardening the heart against it.
In all differences consider that both you and your opponent are dropping off, and that ere long your very memories will be extinguished.

There are moments when petty slights are harder to bear than even a serious injury. Men have died of the fostering of a great bite.
Men's hearts ought not to be set against one another, but set with one another, and all against the evil thing only.
A man behind the times is apt to speak ill of them, on the principle that nothing looks well from behind.
Public reformers had need first practice on their own hearts that which they purpose to try on others.
Steadfastness is a noble quality; but unguided by knowledge or humility, it becomes rashness.
Next to the man who can answer a question thoroughly is the man who can ask it clearly.
The more any one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talked of.
No science is speedily learned by the noblest genius without tuition.
What thou seest speak of with caution.

DRIED FRUIT.—A circular from Messrs. W. W. Gwathmey & Co., 79 Water street, New York, has the following about dried fruit:
Receipts are increasing and are being readily taken by the trade at good prices. In addition to the confident feeling as to the future, the improved style of packing assists in their ready disposition. But few except fine grades of sliced apples are coming in. These command high prices. Good quartered apples are in demand, and being scarce, would command outside quotations as to quality. Blackberries have again improved, and are held very firmly. The demand is not very active, but buyers are willing to take them at a slight concession. Peeled peaches are not arriving from Georgia so plentifully, and the trade are now turning their attention to North Carolina and Virginia. These are quickly disposed of on arrival at quotations, and towards the close there seems to be an improved feeling among receivers, who are less disposed to grant concessions than a week ago. Unpeeled are not in very full supply, and are as yet somewhat neglected by purchasers. Pitted cherries have again advanced, and likely to be higher. Raspberries are much wanted, and would sell high, if prime. Wattleberries sell readily at an advance. Shippers should never pack fruit in dirty barrels. If not new, let them be thoroughly washed before packing.

THEREIGN OF LITTLE MEN.
The New York Sun devotes a long editorial to the ascendancy of little men in politics, pointing out how their narrow views, petty meannesses and selfish aims tend to corrupt and dwarf a whole people. It draws the contrast between New York, under the rule of the great men of a past era, and under the rule of the little men who succeeded them, and says:
The tide of venality and corruption flowed into the Legislature close upon the heels of the small men; and as the men became smaller the tide swelled higher. Profound thinkers predicted this consequence. Little men, suddenly advanced to large places, easily convince themselves that they ought not to wield great powers, or bestow great benefits upon others without receiving extraordinary compensation. Walpole acted upon this idea by always giving his bribes to the most inconsiderable Commons. The startling corruption of the carpet-bag governments is a striking illustration of the same principle. Measured by the magnitude of his office, Grant is one of the littlest and most voracious of this order of political lazaroni.

FOOD FOR PEAR TREES.—A correspondent of the "Country Gentleman" says that if coppers and saltpetre water are used around pear trees, the trees will show the effects in a large yield of fruit. He tried this on a Bartlett pear tree that had yielded no fruit for two years previous; that year it yielded 155 large fine pears, and the following year 250 large fine ones, and it is still doing finely. If pear trees want iron, which most soils are deficient in, sulphate of iron, or copperas, is a good way to supply it.

THE SUB-KUKLUX COMMITTEES.
Washington, Sept. 22.—The following is the list of the sub-committees appointed by the full Kuklux Committee, to take testimony: For Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, Senators Pratt, Rice and Bayard, and Representatives Rocky and Robinson; for North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, Messrs. Maynard Schofield, Lansing, Voorhees, and Senator Blair.

In case of the refusal of the authorities to furnish information, relating to the finances, taxation, &c., of States, a sub-committee of three is authorized to go to the States and obtain it by such means as they deem advisable.

THE NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.—We find the following items relating to this road in the last Greensboro 'Patriot.' We are gratified to see the reduction of rates upon the road. It is the exponent of the policy that it is to be pursued by the company controlling that road and the Danville road.—Richmond Whig.

REDUCTION OF RATES.—We are informed by letter from W. H. Green, superintendent of the North Carolina railroad, that the rates of travel have been reduced on this road, now called the North Carolina Division of the Richmond and Danville railroad to four and a half cents per mile first class, and three cents per mile second class. The rates heretofore have been about six cents per mile first class.

This is a material reduction, but we hope to see it still lower.
Stockholders' Meeting.—Pursuant to call of adjourned meeting in July, the stockholders of the North Carolina railroad, to the number of ten, assembled in the courthouse yesterday at 1 o'clock.

On motion, R. W. Ford, of Cabarrus county, took the chair, and Mr. Jesse H. Lindsay acted as secretary.
A sufficient amount of stock not being represented, after some brief remarks by D. F. Caldwell, C. P. Mendenhall, and others, it was resolved to adjourn to meet in this city on the 20th day of December.

This stockholders' meeting is a mere fizzle.

The Negro Snubbed.
A great "hubbub" is raised at Titusville, Pennsylvania, because of the snubbing of the negro by the Radicals there. A breakfast was given to General GRANT, as he was going to Cincinnati, at this Titusville. Seventy-five tickets were sold. Several negroes applied for tickets, but only one of them succeeded. ABRAHAM LEE, after some demur on the part of the ticket-seller, got one; but when he presented himself at the door he was not allowed to enter, although he had paid his two dollars. ABRAHAM publishes an indignant card, concluding as follows:

"The facts in regard to my treatment at the Marshall House the next morning are before the public. I need not reiterate them here. I will say this, however, that as I approached the dining-room door, Mr. Bloss was standing there, and I was quite sure he saw me coming. He quietly slid away out of sight, and I am under the impression that he did so to avoid witnessing the consequences of his instructions to Mr. Orr; for I am confident that Mr. Bloss did not wish me to go into that dining-room, not because of my occupation, but because of my color. He now seeks to shelter himself behind Mr. Orr. It is my intention to see this thing through, not on my own personal account, but on account of my race, and particularly such of them as Mr. Bloss considers representative men."

ABRAHAM LEE.
Titusville, Sept. 16, 1871.

A humming bird met a butterfly, and being pleased with the beauty of his person, and the glory of his wings, made an offer of perpetual friendship. "I cannot think of it," was the reply, "as you once spurned me, and called me a crawling dolt." "Impossible!" exclaimed the humming bird, "I always entertained the highest respect for such beautiful creatures as you." "Perhaps you do now," said the other, "but when you insulted me, I was a caterpillar. So let me give you a piece of advice; never insult the humble as they may some day become your superiors."

NORTHERN CHARITY.
A Ku Klux committee is greatly needed in the town of 'Adix, Ohio. A young man stopping at a hotel there was taken with the small-pox, whereupon some of the citizens entered his room, sewed him in a blanket, and took him through a back window, after which they placed him in a wagon and drew him to an old deserted house without roof or windows. Here they left him to the care of a negro, the rain pouring down on him the while. Of course the poor fellow died, and while his body was being thrust into a hole dug in an open field, some of the neighbors stood on the hills and shot at the men engaged in the proceeding. The negro nurse was then given his choice either to leave town or be shot; and so the people got rid of the man who was apparently the most decent inhabitant of the place.—Wilmington Star.

THE SUB-KUKLUX COMMITTEES.
Washington, Sept. 22.—The following is the list of the sub-committees appointed by the full Kuklux Committee, to take testimony: For Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, Senators Pratt, Rice and Bayard, and Representatives Rocky and Robinson; for North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, Messrs. Maynard Schofield, Lansing, Voorhees, and Senator Blair.

Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1871.

There is eight cents paid in Hillsboro.

Cotton in Hillsboro is eighteen cents.

This year's corn sells in Milton at $3.50 a barrel.

A doll that creeps has been invented for the little children.

Petersburg excursions to Fayetteville to establish commercial relations.

An attempt to burn Jarratt's Hotel in Petersburg failed the other night.

A two horse load of tobacco was lately sold in Danville for eleven hundred dollars.

Henry Craig, one of the Kirk "mish," when last heard from was in the cotton house at Norfolk.

The negro women in Richmond have formed a society called "The Daughters of the Golden Candlestick."

Ohio boasts of an old man aged 87 whose father was 78 when the old man put in his appearance as a little baby.

Sylvanus Green of Richmond was run over by a wagon on Main street and instantly killed. A careless negro was the driver.

Horace Greeley is the strongest man in the nation to oppose Gen. Grant for the presidency in '72. Can the reformers take a hint?

Nat Wilson, the popular young to becomer and commission merchant in Richmond, sailed to-day for Europe. Cardozo, of Martin & Cardozo, is with him.

A white man in a red flannel shirt with a brace of Navy pistols, and leading a couple of horses towards Pittsylvania Court-house, is the latest horse-stealing news from Halifax county.

There is a place called Pin Hook in this county and it is remarkable for a race that was run there many years ago by a man and a woman. They wore no clothes and ran for a quart of liquor.

Four cents and a half a mile for first class and three cents for second class has been adopted by the new administration of the North Carolina Central road. Heap better for poor folks, we think.

Capt. B. W. Justice of A. G. Lee & Bro. of Raleigh while drawing up some cotton in the upper story of the store fell through and was killed instantly. Capt. Justice was a leading Baptist in the city.

They take preachers across the ferry at Norfolk free of charge. Preachers should have these courtesies whenever they can be extended, that is when they preach the gospel, and are not themselves "cast-a-ways."

As a steamer with a brass eagle on her flag staff neared Richmond the other day an immense bald eagle lit on the "brass one" and sat like a King as the boat skimmed the waves. It's a sure sign of the "Tidal wave."

The colored folks got up a revival at the Mt. Hermon church in this county and while one preacher was down praying for the mourners, the other punched him with his foot and told him to "go out"—that he was the "gitter up" of that meeting.

In burying the 703 Confederates in Raleigh who were brought from Gettysburg, we are told, a gentleman went to each grave with a shovel and threw in some dirt—all the graves except the one he left for the preacher—marking as he did it—"there should be no partiality, one should have as much dirt as the other."

We learn from the Danville Times that the Norfolk and G. Western Rail Road has been put under contract from Danville to Bristol, and that work will be commenced in a few days. The Times leans to the opinion that the Pennsylvania Central Road is the contractor, though it professes not to be posted.

It is convenient to inform us we would like to know what has become of Lowrey and his gang. We thought they would have been killed and eaten long ago from the fact "from the fact" that was made in all the newspapers. The best way to catch Lowrey and his gang, is to burn the woods. By the way we would like to go "inter-viewing" down in that section if we thought our scalp would be safe. Would like to hear from Gen. Gorman how about it.

A FRIEND writes and asks our opinion of the newspaper difficulty between Mr. Turner of the Sentinel and Maj. Englehard of the Wilmington Journal. He wants to know our opinion of the principle involved, that is whether Major Englehard should have published Major Hearne's letter or not. In reply we think we had better not have much to say, lest, like the fellow that interfered between the man and his wife, we might not get much thanks from either. However, we hope the Major and Mr. Turner will both play quits. Both have troops of friends and these friends are mighty apt to side with one or the other. We will say this, though: We have no idea that Maj. Englehard intended any grievance, political or otherwise, to Mr. Turner when he published the Hearne letter. And we believe that only his desire to do towards a brother editor, and one too who claims to be a Conservative, as he would have had him do towards himself, was the sole motive that gave consent to its publication. Maj. Englehard besides being one of the ablest editors in the State was an avowed officer and gentleman as Gen. Lee had in his army of heroes. And his is a heart that would do no man a man's wrong.

WE FIND the poor men in the State might well be satisfied with the leasing of the North Carolina road. It will make freight tumble and already the rates of travel have come down to four and three cents a mile. This looks a little like business. All the people want with a railroad is a decent percentage and low freight and travel. They don't care about the disappointment of any special clan who want to be directors or presidents—you see its no money in their pockets—and while they may sympathize with all such to their faces, they laugh at them behind their backs. No, we wouldn't care if a company of heathen Chinese had charge of a road, so they would run it like they meant business, and give the poor man a chance to rest himself on the cars once and a while. For you see we ain't used to riding in carriages every day like some folks. Six and a half percent for thirty years is mighty good pay on the North Carolina road and the people at large have got sense enough to know it and see it.

HUMILIATING.
The Danville Times says that Charlotte county Va.—the land of Patrick Henry—John Randolph and a host of other distinguished statesmen—for two hundred years ruled by the white race—is now ruled and governed by negroes and carpet-baggers. The Africans poll 2200 votes and the whites 906! "What a splendid field for carpet-baggers!" exclaims the Times, and it adds: "And they are cultivating it to perfection—just reeling in negro votes." We have always thought and still think that the whites in counties like Charlotte could, by proper tactics, win over to them a majority of the negro voters, and make the vile carpet-baggers call upon the rocks and the mountains to hide them from the gaze of honest men.

A NEW BOOK called "The Coming Race," a people, that the author claims to inhabit the inside of this earth, says that down there a woman is called Gyn and there never was an instance of Jealousy amongst them but one time, and that was about two thousand years ago, when a jealous spouse murdered her benedict in his sleep, at which, all the men of that section got scared and ran off leaving all the gyns to themselves. This, of course, the gyns couldn't stand long, so they fell on the murderous gyn, and cut her to pieces in her sleep. A portion of the old benedicts heard of this and came back—but the younger ones staid where they were and married new gyns, and there hasn't been a jealous gyn down in the earth ever since. The book is very interesting, as the author evidently knows what he is talking about though nobody else on top of the earth does. Every gyn or as we call it, woman—should have a copy in her hand, and keep her chignon adjusted.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

THE KUKLUX INVESTIGATION.
Washington, Sept. 23.—The general Kuklux Committee met again to-day in the Capitol. F. N. Strudwick, of Hillsboro, N. C.; David Gist, of Union county, S. C.; and Clayton Camp, of Spotsylvania county, S. C., having been duly summoned and failed to appear as witnesses before the committee, the chairman (Senator Scott) was authorized to report said fact to the Senate at its next session, and request the president of the Senate to issue his warrant for their arrest as being in contempt of the authority of Congress. It was also ordered that copies of this resolution be sent to the above named parties by mail. The full committee then adjourned to meet on the first day of the next session of Congress, or sooner if called by the chairman.
After this the sub-committee of three—viz, Senators Scott, Pool and Blair—appointed to examine witnesses, organized, and examined Colonel W. L. Saunders, of North Carolina, and Edward Wheeler, of Arkansas. Saunders, whom the committee have had much trouble in getting before them, refused to-day to answer all questions as to his connection, or the connection of any other person, with the so-called kuklux organization on the ground that he was not compelled to criminate himself or bring upon himself the punishment which, according to the decision of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, may be visited upon any member of the band of kuklux for the misdeeds of their fellow-members.

The act of Congress of January 24th, 1862, was read to him, wherein it is enacted that such a plea shall not be held good to excuse a witness from testifying before a Congressional committee; but he still persisted in his refusal to answer the questions put to him, saying he preferred relying on the Constitution of the United States rather than on an act of Congress. He was then informed that he would be reported to the full committee at its next meeting, when it is expected that Congress will take cognizance of the case and order his arrest for contempt.

COD LIVER OIL,

The Best, Purest and most acceptable to the Stomach.

THIS COD LIVER OIL we import direct, and claim that it is superior to any other sold in this Market, because it is selected by our own Agent at the Fisheries, and made only FROM HEALTHY AND FRESH LIVERS.

It has never been filtered or expressed, and thus deprived of its most valuable therapeutic properties, nor exposed to atmospheric changes, which render other Oils rancid and unpalatable. It has never been mixed or adulterated with inferior and cheaper Oils to reduce the cost at a sacrifice of its quality nor handled by unscrupulous parties than the fishermen and ourselves.

We have the testimony of Physicians who prescribe it, and of patients who have taken it, that it is more acceptable to the stomach and more easily assimilated than any other Oil.

We guarantee it to be entirely pure and fresh, free from rancidity, and fully possessing all the wonderful remedial properties claimed for the BEST COD LIVER OIL.

Reverend.
The senior was serenaded, last Saturday night by the Hillsboro Brass Band, and adopts this method of making his "acknowledgements." He would have done so from his parlor door, by making his personal appearance, but he had just retired to bed, and being afflicted with rheumatic pains when once down he labored under difficulty in rising. Besides the wine and cake had just "goin out." He returns thanks to the Band and thinks the performance good considering the short practice.

Drowned in a Branch.
Mr. William Wilson living eight miles from this place was drowned in a branch two inches deep and twelve inches wide last Thursday evening at two o'clock. He had been to a neighbor's house and on his return was taken with a fit at the branch and fell face-foremost in it. The deceased was about 45 years old.

A Family Poisoned.
The family of C. E. Parish, a lawyer of this town, was recently poisoned by drinking milk. Mr. Parish had recently bought a fine cow that he kept in his yard, and it must have fed on some poisonous weed growing there, nightshade or something of the kind. His wife, himself, his cook, and all his children—save two that don't drink milk—were taken very sick one after another with pains in their limbs, chilliness, and hot burning fevers. We are glad to say that all are recovering.

Spirit Rappings in Goldsboro.
A gentleman well known to many in this State—we don't mention his name because not authorized—went from Raleigh to Goldsboro and called at Barringer's bar room. He heard rappings on the wall and about and said, "You must have spirits here." The proprietor called and put his hand on the table and counter and they moved. The Raleigh man then heard telegraphing (the was an old operator,) and he asked, "Who are you?" It said "None of your business!" Then it telegraphed the name of a long lost brother of the gentleman and told him to "come to Goldsboro and live," and the gentleman intends moving his family there sure enough. We give this as we get it from a correspondent who we know to be a reliable gentleman, and got his information at headquarters in Goldsboro. That the Old Prince of Darkness is loose, is no mistake.

The English and Scotch going to Virginia.
[From our special Correspondent.]
Old Virginia is fast filling up with a flow of Emigration. Several families landed at Norfolk Thursday night from England and Scotland, brought over by the ship, "Champion." Of these there were four families from Herefordshire on their way to Pamplin's depot to buy land wherever the agent there might advise them. A Mr. Prince, a young man in the party, left off the following information: They were on the seas two weeks. He was a good carpenter, but wanted to go to farming, and if the country suited him, he would send over for his father and mother. Good carpenters in England only got eight dollars a week. Good land in England was six hundred dollars an acre. The soil was gravelly and they raised wheat, oats, and barley. On clay land they raised beans. They housed cattle in England in November and turned them loose in May.

JOHN HORNE
of Scotland was also along and was going to Meherin depot where he had a friend of his uncle. He wanted to see a mosquito, but never seen one. Over his way they had nothing but a small fly they called the midge that bit only during the day. He was from Stirling, Scotland. He was a Draper and said he was an apprentice he got nothing the first year, five pounds the second, ten the third, fifteen the fourth, and boarded and clothed himself. The weather his way had been right tough. Only a fortnight of good weather this season. Been very chilly. The two last winters the longest and severest they have had in some time. John was a jaunty looking chap as he sat with his Prince Charlie cap on.

We would not like to go to Richmond without calling in to see our friend, Kellogg & Gibson. We found them at work—full of orders from the largest and best dealers in the country. Major Kellogg is one of the best business men we know, and a man will have to travel a long way to find a better fellow than Jim Gibson. Their store is one of the most attractive in Richmond—their importations this season have been unusually large. The ship "Southampton" from Liverpool to New York, landed recently, just after leaving the former city, had a lot of crockery for them, which we learn they had insured. The good ship "Brilliant Star" direct from Liverpool to City Point Va., however arrived a few days since bringing them several large invoices of goods direct from the latter place in Staffordshire. They are doing a very large business, and no house in this broad land of ours better deserves to succeed. Don't fail to go and see them when you visit Richmond.

WHY OLD JOHN ROBINSON'S SHOW STOPPED AT HILLSBORO.—Heard that a live paper was published here. Besides, he wanted to see the "keeper of Jesse Holmes, the Fool Killer."

Don't fail to read the adv. by Steph. T. Forrest, headed "Exchange."

RICHMOND.
[From our own Correspondent.]
THE TRADE.

We could not fail to notice during our recent visit to this charming city abundant evidences of its rapidly increasing trade and prosperity. The merchants, millers, and manufacturers of Richmond are live men and deserve by their energy and enterprise the success they have achieved. The manufacturers are all full of orders and the wholesale dealers exhibit stock that compare favorably in quantity, quality, and price, with those found in the larger northern cities. Several large new establishments in various branches of merchandise have commenced this season and we have no hesitation in declaring that country merchants can now buy their supplies in that city on as favorable terms as can be obtained in any market and can save both time and money. We learn that many of the best and largest dealers in the country have this season, on stopping in Richmond, intending to go north, made all their purchases.

OLD MARKET.
Soon Saturday morning we went down to Old Market to see what Richmond would eat for dinner that day. Long rows of huckster carts surround the market house and here you can get every variety of the season: This season turnips five cents a bunch and six in a bunch; Carrots five cents and eight in a bunch; Parsnips the same; Butter sixty cents a pound; Half grown chickens fifty cents a piece; Eggs thirty cents a dozen; Butterbeans twelve and a half cents a quart; Sweet potatoes seventy five cents a bushel; Cabbage six cents a head. Chickens range from 12 1/2 to 50 cts, and Butter from 40 to 60. It's a money making business to these hucksters, they get ready cash, and the best price for everything. We met an old stout lady—a Mrs. Hicks from Chesterfield, 12 miles, who was in market "with her things." To a red faced gentleman who had just got up and come to market with his basket, and who "preferred a black pullet to a rooster," she sat out her box of poultry and told the little country boy with her to "be peert, you musn't be slow if you come to market," while the little fellow was running his hand through the pigeon hole door to the box and had the black pullet by the legs making the feathers fly—and the pullet a squalling—the old woman in the meanwhile shaking hands with a former slave—a negro man who had come up "to tell ole miss howdy." The old lady sold apples at 5 cents a quart, a new way to us. Inside of the market you find all the fresh meats of the season: Beef 15 cents; Tender loin, tripe, kidneys, brains, and liver, for delicacies. Sausage 15 cents; Mutton 10, Lamb 12 1/2, dressed squirrels 20 cents, and puddle ducks three for a dollar. You'll see the boarding house keepers, poor souls, creeping from their dens and making for market after beef and pig for their glorious human lodgers to devour. We met him, of the Bennis house, and asked him the price of board. He had just got up and looked sleepy, but he woke up directly and told us if we would bring two or three with us and would sleep "two in a bed," he'd take us at a dollar a day. No doubt took us to be off an emigrant ship. We went back to Maj. Eagle of the Ballard.

THE DAVENPORT BROTHERS.
We travelled with this Company from Petersburg to Richmond. The brothers are middle aged men and had their wives along with them. One of the Mrs. Davenport had a tame parrot on the seat in front of her, a black and tan terrier in her lap, two black and tan pups in a basket that she fed on milk out of a bottle, and a tame monkey in a box under the car seat. Her husband told us that Pol, the parrot, was thirty-five years old, and quite an institution. That whenever any danger threatened them, the bird would sing out "look out" with all her might. One day in California she hollered the whole day long "look out" and the next day the whole party were hurled down an embankment on the Union and Pacific R. R. eight Pullman cars tossed over and Poll amongst them. The first seen of her she was sitting on top of a rail crying "murder!"

Friday night we went to see these brothers perform at a assembly hall in Richmond. And truly are they wonderful in this feat. They had a cupboard or a cabinet as they called it, on the stage, with three doors to it, and a bench running around so that you can sit down and be shut up in there. They invited two of the best known citizens in Richmond (Messrs. G. Stokes and Henry Miller,) to seats on the stage with them. They went forward. The brothers got in the cabinet, took seats, and were securely bound, hands and feet, by these Richmond gentlemen. A guitar, violin, tambourine, and bells were in the cabinet outside the reach of these men who sat fastened to their seats. The door was then shut and of all the racket you ever heard they had it in there—guitars playing, the fiddle a going, bells ringing, and the deuce to play generally. The door was opened, there sat the brothers still tied tight, and were examined by the chosen gentlemen who pronounced them "securely tied." These young gentlemen then got in there with them and each of their hands was tied round the brothers necks, and the door shut. The racket was worse than before. And the young men sat there as straight as arrows and their hands untied. The brothers requested them to tell the audience "how it was done." Mr. Stokes said: "I don't tell how it's done. I heard the guitar played. Felt it put on the top of my head. Requested them to untie my hand and they untied it." A voice in the audience:

"Who are they?" Mr. Stokes: "I don't know." Many more wonderful things they did that we haven't time to write, such as tied tight, hands behind the back and their coat on—turn the lights off and the bells fly, guitar playing and floating in the air—turn up the lights—and there is the man—his coat off—and his hands and feet tied just as they were.

NEW RICHMOND ADVERTISERS.
Sixteen more new ones in Richmond. We only spent a day there. Have only time to call attention to these one by one as we are pressed with other local matter. But we have them all well dressed in line and our readers may "bet" on each firm as first class and no mistake, and if our readers are foolish enough to go elsewhere it is their misfortune—not our fault. See the Richmond columns. Now hear us count the new ones:

1. Moses Millhiser—Dry Goods. R. B. Hines of Milton, brother of the late Capt. Hines, is with this house. T. D. Tinnin, an excellent merchant of this place; informs us that wishing some linen for tobacco bags he sent to Baltimore and New York, couldn't get the sort he wished, and found the very thing at Millhiser's and at six cents a yard cheaper!

2. Marshall, McVeigh & Co.—Hats, Caps, and Trunks. Our same old house we always tell you about—you know it.

3. Charles T. Wortham & Co.—Grocers and Commission Merchants. Clever firm and clever men. Capt. Sloan of Greensboro is here, and Johnny Farries, a Johnny reb, the popular young book-keeper. Send them produce, and if you want genuine liquors buy their "Mountain Rye."

4. T. R. Price & Co.—Dry Goods. No use saying a word! that's the house.

5. Louis J. Bosieux—Candy and Confectioneries. Sweet all over. Don't buy any where else, for he is the first class house and sells everywhere south.

6. Woodhouse & Parham—Books and Stationery. The best kept Literature and Music here. Go there.

7. Wingo, Ellette & Crump—Boots Shoes, and Trunks. A new and splendid house. These gentlemen are well known in Milton and in fact all the Border section and will get a large share of the Trade. They certainly deserve it: for they are young men and real business ones at that.

8. Clarke & Waddy—Exclusively Hats, Caps, and Trunks. We bespeak a liberal patronage for these truly deserving young men. They have an elegant first class stock and paid the cash for it. They employ no clerk—themselves do the business, and they mean business! No young men in Richmond have more the confidence and respect of its citizens than they. They are on Main 1309. Just go and see them—that's all we ask. We buck to them because they are the right steel.

9. Wm. Ira Smith—the big Clothier on Main. You have seen him before and know he is right.

10. Waggoner & Harvey—Wholesale Grocers and Produce Merchants on Fourteenth street. They want Cotton and Flour. We value none of our advertisers more than these well known gentlemen. They have the largest run of trade amongst our people and ship groceries to every town. Their man "Mike"—broth of a boy—never has time to sit down—filling orders.

11. John Bowers—Tin, Copper Ware, Stoves, or anything in that line. The old established house of Richmond and sells the best house furnishing goods in this line such as Chandeliers, Grates, Fenders &c. Every merchant should patronize him.

12. Noah Walker & Co.—Large Clothing House that has branches all over the south. On Main Street—Nice men and hip top bargains here.

13. Chamberlayne & Jones—Wholesale Groceries and Liquor men. Doing a heavy business up our way. Taking the place of what once was the known house of that city.

14. Simpson, Bass & Co.—Commission Merchants on Cary. Now, if you want to sell your produce ship right to this firm. They want Hay the worst in the world and Flour and Grain.

15. Palmer Hartook & Co.—Commission Merchants—and the cleverest of gentlemen. So polite, so liberal, so upright and enterprising. Ship to them anything you raise and they will make it pay. Ask Mr. Cameron of this town, about them—he'll tell you it's so.

16. Baughman Bros—Paper of all kinds. Newspapers can get the best of Job and Flat Cap paper from them. They are newspaper men.

NORFOLK ADVERTISERS.
Already the friends of BOTTIMORE & MARROW have commenced their purchases and orders for Boots and Shoes,

AND
PICKETT & CO. are shipping Hats so fast there's no time for talking

WHILE
W. R. HUDGINS & CO. are making the Hardware get up and travel into North Carolina.

AND
TAYLOR, MARTIN & CO. are doing the identical same thing. Have got so much Hardware it takes two large houses to hold it and about one dozen clerks to run the concern. But if you are out of

MEAT.
ROWLAND BROS. will sell you Groceries till you shine as black as grease. This old firm is well known up here and like an old silver dollar it will never lose the genuine ring.

Prof. Lilge of Raleigh gives a grand Concert there the 13th of October and will be assisted by Prof. Grotz of Hillsboro, it will be a splendid affair.

OLD JOHN ROBINSON, THE LEVIATHAN,

Is Triumphantly Marching on, and will positively Exhibit in

HILLSBOROUGH MONDAY 23RD OCTOBER, 1871.

Don't confound this gigantic organization with any other show bearing the name of Robinson, for it is in no way, shape, or manner connected with any or either of them, but it is the ONLY OLD JOHN ROBINSON who has owned and managed shows for the past fifty years; through the Southern country, and has spent years of toil and vast sums of money to bring his monster Museum, Menagerie Caravan and Circus to the high state of perfection which it now assumes.

The Challenge Champion Show of the World!

N. B. TO THE LOVERS OF FINE HORSES. The particular attention of stock raisers and every one else is called to the splendid collection of thorough bred imported Horses and Ponies, from almost every clime under the sun. The high mettle and dash of these may be found among the vast congress of equines now attached to this monster Show, and the proprietor would say to those who do not care to visit the exhibitions, that the beautiful portable stables which are attached to the great Three Tent Show are open at all times for public inspection, FREE of charge, and he cordially invites every body to call and view the largest and finest assemblage of imported thorough-bred Circus stock in America, where every attention will be shown them by the attaches of the exhibition.

GRAND OPENING OF LAIL GOODS

AT THE Great Clothing Emporium, No. 1300 Main Street, Richmond, Va. where E. B. SPENCE & CO., MERCHANT TAILORS, are now opening their stock of Fall Goods, and invite their old customers and the public generally to call and examine them. They have a very fine assortment of English and French Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, and are prepared to make them up to order in the best style and at the lowest prices. They also have a nice line of Ready Made Clothing, well cut and made, which they will sell as low as the lowest. Their stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods is unusually large and attractive, embracing all the latest novelties. Neck Ties and Scarfs of the sweetest styles. Underwear and Hosiery of all kinds. All of which will be sold at prices within the reach of all. We advise one and all to call at No. 1300 Main Street, Richmond, and see for themselves, that E. B. SPENCE & SON are selling Clothing and Furnishing Goods very low at No. 1300, Main street, Richmond, Va. Sept. 23rd, 1871.

Old John Robinson's Show is the greatest institution ever seen in America. Christians, Jews and Gentiles flock to see the "Museum" and "Menagerie," and no few of them go "one eye" on the Circus—why not? It never hurts any body. A little fun now and then is relished by the wisest men.

EVERYBODY BOUND FOR OLD JOHN ROBINSON'S MENAGERIE AND CIRCUS.

"Neighbor Edwards, did you not tell me last week that you and your son Matthew were going to start for Kansas to-day to locate a piece of land suitable for a farm for Matthew?"

"I certainly did say that friend Brown, and at that time I expected to start to-day, sure; but since I last saw you the agents of Old John Robinson have been here and made a picture gallery of the whole town. Now John Robinson and I were boys together, and as a few days won't make any difference, I am going to wait and see the old veteran once more, for I may never have the opportunity again."

"Well, friend Edwards, I had made up my mind that I would not go; but since you recommend it so highly, I believe I will wait and see the old man, and his big show myself."

Old John is sure to come to Hillsboro, Monday Oct. 23rd.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Messrs. Editors: There is a code LAW which makes it the duty of the County Commissioners in every County in which a newspaper is printed, to make out and publish annually a Financial statement showing the people the financial condition of their County and "how the money goes"—to whom and for what purpose. Can you tell me by what authority this LAW has been disregarded in Orange? It is not optional with said commissioners to do it or let it alone. It is done in other counties.
